Some people have special dietary needs and suffer from a gluten allergy, intolerance or coeliac disease. Levels of dietary sensitivity to gluten and the seriousness of these reactions in these individuals may vary depending on the type of sensitivity and the individual involved. It is therefore highly recommended that if you are unsure about consuming one of our pizzas due to a gluten sensitivity that you take your personal dietary sensitivity into account with the knowledge that we cannot guarantee that any of our pizzas are totally gluten free (even if made on a gluten free base).
